WSB TELEVISION Presents

n Cooperation With The Greater Atlanta Council of Churches and the Methodist Ministerial Association —

An Easter Sunrise Concert

TONY FONTANE has been described by music critics as having one of the most beautiful natural voices of our generation. Prior to his conversion, he was one of the nation's leading pop singers, scoring more than one million record sales of his ever popular, "Cold, Cold Heart."

In addition to his recording successes, Mr. Fontane enjoyed stardom in radio, stage and television. Among his guest appearances on television, he starred on the "Steve Allen Show," "The Ed Sullivan Show," and "The Hoagy Carmichael Show." His own "Tony Fontane Show" was carried on both network radio and television.

He attained international stage success appearing in some of the world's leading theatres. He appeared as the singing star in Emile Littler's London success, "Brewster's Millions."

Tony Fontane turned to Christian service following a near fatal automobile accident. His popularity among gospel congregations throughout the world is already a well known story. One of his greatest ovations was given him during his Town Hall Concert in Sydney, Australia. He has recently returned from a successful concert series in Japan. On RCA records, he has recorded numerous best selling albums, including "He Leads Me" and "The Hymns My Mother Sang."

Mr. Fontane sang for President Johnson's White House prayer breakfast in February. We welcome him to Atlanta this Easter day.

FRANK BOGGS has recently returned to Atlanta from his sixth concert tour of the British Isles, where he once sang for Queen Elizabeth the eve before her coronation.

"The Lord called me into full-time Christian work when I was a senior in high school in Dallas, Texas," Mr. Boggs said. "I was 17 at the time, and I have never given anything else another thought, really."

At 17, Mr. Boggs had already co-authored a musical comedy, and while attending Baylor University, he rewrote the school's fight song. But the call of Tin Pan Alley went unheeded, and so did the possibility of a career on the opera stage. Mr. Boggs chose to appear on different stages, and he has sung on them to millions of Christians the world over.

Now living in Atlanta, Mr. Boggs spends much of his time in airplanes, traveling from Mobile to Munich. During his travels, he has appeared on the same cards with such notables as Britain's Tom Rees and America's Billy Graham. He has had his own radio show with Britain's BBC.

Frank Boggs has recorded ten long-playing albums for Word Record Co., all hits in the gospel music field. They include "The Splendor of Sacred Songs" and "Songs From The Heart." He has been a regularly featured soloist on the Baptist Hour radio program, and he has also appeared on the nationwide television program, "Frontiers of Faith."

BOB VAN CAMP, popular announcer and WSB radio music director, is a regular at the Fox Theatre organ. He is perhaps the only radio personality in the nation who is deeply devoted to an organization known as the American Theatre Organ Enthusiasts, a group concerned with the lack of live organ music in America's theatres.
Mr. Van Camp, as host of the early morning radio show, "Merry-Go-Round," fashions his show for working Atlanta with bright tips, music and information. He is the popular moderator and host of the Atlanta Pops Concert.

DR. WILLIAM W. LEMONDS is a conductor, organist and lecturer in church music. He is director of choral music at Emory University in Atlanta. Dr. Lemonds is National Chairman of the Organ and Church Music Division of the National Music Teachers' Association and serves on the board of the Intercollegiate Music Council and as its national secretary. As a soldier in World War II, he received the Bronze Star for heroic action in the line of duty.
Dr. Lemonds is married to the former Jean Work, soprano soloist at the First Presbyterian Church in Atlanta. Their children are Aradath, Dulcy and Peter.

PROFESSOR WILLIAM H. HILL is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. He is a member of the Boston Civic Symphony, the Harvard Symphony and the Atlanta Symphony. In 1963, as an assistant professor of music at Georgia State College, he organized the Symposium of Contemporary Music for Brass, which is annually sponsored by the Southeastern Composers League and Georgia State College. To both Professor Hill and his talented students in the Brass Choir, we extend a grateful thanks for participating in this Easter concert.

There is an old Hebrew legend which says that after God created the world, He called the angels to Him and asked what they thought of it. One of them said, "There is something lacking: the sound of praise to the Creator."
So God created music and it was heard in the whisper of the wind and in the song of the birds; and to man also was given the gift of song.
WSB-Television, searching for an Easter gift to you, could find nothing better than this God-given gift of song.
